

Samuel Pentony

Barrister

Year of Call: 2019

sp@senatehousechambers.com

01604 210979

Inn of Court: Inner Temple

Year of Call: 2019

Education: LLM in Legal Practice, BPP Law School (Distinction) LLB Law, Birkbeck University of London (First-Class), BA Sociology and Philosophical Studies, UWE

Scholarships and Awards: Leonard Woodley Scholar

Sam graduated with First-Class honours from Birkbeck University of London. He was called to bar in 2019 gaining a Distinction in his LLM from BPP Law School.

Sam is a Leonard Woodley Scholar of Inner Temple.

Prior to joining the bar, Sam held specialist policy roles for trade bodies in the waste and manufacturing sectors. He specialised in environmental law and policy, advising Government and industry on air quality, chemicals and waste regulation. Sam previously held positions in sales and project coordination and was a paralegal for two Cambridgeshire law firms.

When not working, Sam is passionate about blues music and plays the guitar when time allows. He recently took up running and when possible takes part in his local Parkrun.

